

IN TUCKER COUNTY...

The PATH line will cross the Monongahela National Forest approximately 2.1 miles and will clear a new 200 ft right-of-way with 180 ft towers. Additional Forest property will be impacted by access roads and construction staging areas.

On Monday, July 22, from 4-8 p.m., at the Tucker Co High School, citizens opposed to the PATH transmission line are getting an opportunity to speak to representatives from the National Park Service and U.S. Forest Service about the line's impact on the Monongahela National Forest in northern Tucker Co. the Harpers Ferry National Historical Park, the Appalachian National Scenic Trail, the C&O Canal National Historical Park and the Potomac Heritage National Scenic Trail.

This meeting is an open house forum and you will have an opportunity to speak personally with National Park Service and US Forest Service staff to provide input on the environmental impact of PATH on federal lands.

Maps and displays will provide information about the proposed crossing of federal lands by the PATH project and about the EIS process. If you wish to submit detailed comments you can speak to a court reporter or fill out a comment form. Written comments will be accepted also and should address potential environmental impacts.

As part of its approval process, a federal environmental impact statement (EIS) must be prepared for the PATH project. This public scoping meeting is intended to gather input from the public regarding the scope of the future EIS study.
